Van Buren School Board Names New Superintendent

Educator Appointed Meets Qualifications

To Succeed H.O. Wetherell; 20 Applicants Were Screened

By Henry Cantin
ANP Staff Writer

BELLEVILLE -- The appointment of a new superintendent for Van Buren Public School System was announced Tuesday by Van Buren Township Board of Education.

Assuming the school district's superintendency July 1, 1968 is Dale E. Kaulitz, 46, of Lansing and Fenton, Michigan, with 19 years experience in administrative leadership in Michigan's educational circles.

The School Board's selection of Kaulitz followed several weeks of exhaustive screening and study of some 20 applicants who had applied for the position from various sections of the state. Board members narrowed the list to four educators and reached their decision on Kaulitz, after interviews.

A three-year employment contract with a starting annual salary of $21,000 and carrying annual $1,000 increase during the life of the contract has been approved.

Kaulitz will succeed Harold O. Wetherell, who is retiring at the age of 60 years this coming June 30, and after 14 years at the helm of Van Buren schools.

The new superintendent comes to Van Buren School District from the Fenton Area Public Schools, Fenton, Michigan, where he has been superintendent for the last five years.

In making the appointment, School Board members, it was disclosed, all made the same selection (Kaulitz) as the person who closely fitted the qualifications and experience Board members felt was needed to supervise a district as large as Van Buren. As set forth in the (See SCHOOL HEAD page 2)

Smith, Council Cite Record

(Editor's Note: The following letter-statement was submitted by Mayor Royce E. Smith in his bid for re-election as mayor of Belleville. We submit its entire contents to our readers for the review prior to casting their vote in the City's General Election April 1.)

As the political year nears its close, we think it appropriate that we, the City Council of Belleville, report to you and to the citizens of Belleville on the council's progress over the past two years.

We wish to point out that through harmonious cooperation, progress and improvements have been accomplished without an increase in taxes. This is unique since we know very few other cities that have not raised their taxes.

During these two years we have exemplified our program of "Clean Up by cleaning up the cemetery area on the point.

Unusually undergrowth and brush have been cleared and consistent maintenance provided.

Originally we had feared that the cemetery maintenance would prove a burdensome expense to the city, but contrary-wise the cemetery has been made self containing.

The cemetery fund now has a savings certificate of $30,500 with the National Bank of Detroit plus a bank balance of approximately $4000. When all of the cemetery lots have been sold the cemetery will be self containing. (See SMITH, COUNCIL page 2)

BOARD OK'S NEW CONTRACT

Romulus Township Attorney Clears Up 'Conflict of Interest' Question

ROMULUS -- Evidence clearing up questions of possible "conflict of interests" involving Romulus Township's legal counsel was presented to Romulus Township Board last Tuesday night, March 19.

Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, acting in "the interests of township residents" initiated an action that requested the Township Attorney John E. Young to appear before the Township Board and answer allegations raised by documentary evidence relating to his employment contract with the township.

A booklet containing explanations and documents from officials of two national banks, along with an apology for an apparent impression of conflict of interest against the attorney were presented to the Township Board by Young without any supporting oral arguments.

SOME BOARD members were critical of Perry for publicizing the matter before taking it up with the Township Board. Perry countered that public interest was involved and that such matters should be aired fully to everyone's satisfaction.

Young is a member of the Detroit law firm of Elsmann, Young & O'Rourke. His present and first township employment contract at $15,000 expires May 1, 1968.

An invoice dated May 23, 1968 calling for payment of legal services by Young was presented to the Board on stationery listing the firm of Elsmann, Young, O'Rourke & Rogalle, 2034 Guardian Building, Detroit. A check for $1,165 was issued in payment of the invoice and later cashed by the same firm.

Perry had contended that Rogalle's name (Felix F. Rogalle is currently Romulus Township Justice of the Peace) on the firm's stationery indicated an association between the Township attorney (Young) and Rogalle. He further disclosed that the Lawyers Handbook of 1968 also showed Young and Rogalle as members of the same firm.

GRANTS 35 APPEALS

Review Board Hears 70 Cases

BELLEVILLE -- Van Buren Township's Board of Review conducted hearings into 70 tax assessment appeals during its annual March sessions held at the Township Hall, 46425 Tyler road, Louis A. Toth, supervisor, announced.

It was the largest number of cases before the Board of Review since the revaluation of Van Buren by Wayne County nine years ago, he reported. Hearings were held on March 5, 11 and 12.

The Board approved tax as-essment decreases in 35 cases. The decreases varied from $200 to $3,000 and involved both residential and business properties.

The increase in the number of cases coming before the Board of Review was caused, Toth said, by the new state formula in assessing Van Buren properties at 50 per cent of their market value.

The factor used by the taxing authorities, Toth reported, has increased the tax assessments on some properties more than the 50 percent assessment, according to evidence at the hearings.

The factor used by the state and subsequently used by Wayne County Bureau of Taxation is under protest by Township administrative leaders.

It was arrived at by taxing officials, (who based their factor $1.43 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation) on a series of property sales that Toth holds is not a fair criteria for the Township as a whole.

The Lenten Season

(Editor's Note: The following article is the fifth in a series of Lenten Sermons by area pastors and leading churchmen. This week's article was submitted by Rev. Joseph F. Kernosek, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church of Romulus.)

FAITH IS THE NECESSARY REQUIREMENT FOR ENTERING INTO CHRIST'S STRUGGLE.

In the Gospels, generally the conflict-stories (Leaders vs. Jesus), are meant to explain why the tragic Passion happened.

In St. John a further teaching is introduced: God judges and rejects the men of evil; God glorifies His Son and the just in the very destruction that evil men accomplish. Passiontide, in the Church as in the Gospel of John, is the solemn observance of the "hour" of Jesus--i.e. His glory, the destruction and judgment upon evil and the men of evil.

Our principle aim is to prepare ourselves to enter into the spirit of Passiontide. For this we have for an introduction: "Then they picked up rocks to throw at Jesus, but He hid Himself and slipped out of the Temple precincts." These words tell us unmistakably that the life of Jesus is working up to its climax.

The opposition of the leaders of the Jews has hardened to the point where they are ready to stone Jesus for blasphemy. The struggle which will end in Christ's death and resurrection and will bring about His victory over sin and death is about to come to a head. Everything about today brings this fact home to us.

THE COVERED statues in the church cause our attention to be riveted to the cross. The first Scripture reading speaks to us of the sacrificial death of Christ. We are now in the most solemn part of Lent--Passiontide. During this time we contemplate the struggle between Jesus and the leaders of the people in order that we may be able to enter into the spirit of Holy Week and re-live with Our Lord the great events of His life, His Passion, death and resurrection.

In the first place Jesus is not about to be destroyed but glorified.

Our Lord here gives the reason why He will be put to death. He honors His Father. He seeks only His Father's glory. This means that He will do His Father's will whatever the cost, whatever the consequences. (See LENTEN page 5)

ROMULUS ATTORNEY

He reported Monday that he has received word that the Workable Program for Belleville has been approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. This is a program of shown community improvements that must be kept up to date in order for the city to be eligible for federal monies in city-federal sponsored projects and be approved by federal officials annually.

(Young) or any member of the firm of Elmsan, Young & O'Rourke, relevant to the representation of the Township which has not been disclosed to the Township Board. There has been no representations of persons who, to our knowledge, have disputes or other interests in conflict with the Township. There has been no situation in which we or any of us has had the duty to contend for an interest opposed to the Township or to contend on behalf of the Township for an interest opposed to any other client. There has been no acceptance of retainers or employment from others in matters adversely affecting the Township. Documents submitted by National Bank of Detroit and the Michigan Bank were letters of "apology".

National Bank of Detroit wrote that "due to some unexplainable error" a change eliminating Rogalle's name in the firm's listing in the bank's publication "Lawyers Handbook of 1968" was not made. The bank apologized.

The communication from Michigan Bank stated that a review of the bank's records disclosed that Rogalle was not a signatory to any bank accounts jointly with the law firm.

Also presented was a letter reporting that a new secretary employed by the firm had "inadvertently" used "obsolete letterheads" containing the name of Elmsan, Young, O'Rourke and Rogalle, when sending two letters to the Township. Following Young's presentation, the Township Board approved a new one-year contract beginning May 1, 1968 with the law firm at an increase in annual fee of $16,875 plus 10 cents a mile allowance.

The vote was 4 to 2. Bizke and Perry voted against the retainer agreement. Joseph Wallis was absent. The Board acted on motion of Trustee Ellis T. Pennington, who was supported by Trustee Jimmie Raspberry.

In this motion the Board also mandated Bizke and Perry to sign the agreement.

PERRY MOTIONED that the Board table the matter and accept bids from other attorneys and that they be interviewed by the Board was defeated by a 5 to 2. Bizke relinquished the chair, supported Perry's motion.

Two Resolutions commending both Young and Judge Felix F. Rogalle was initiated by Raspberry and supported by Pennington. Bizke and Perry voted against Young's resolution and abstained from voting of Rogalle's resolution.

The Board commended Young and members of the law firm for "their individual integrity, honor and professional ability." And Judge Rogalle "for fair, just and impartial services rendered in his capacity as Justice of the Peace."

Romulus Preparing New Budget

ROMULUS -- A public hearing on a proposed 1968-69 general fund budget for Romulus Township has been tentatively set for mid-April, Edmund Bizke, township supervisor, announced last week.

Budgetary requests submitted by various department heads are currently being processed for presentation to the Township Board.

The proposed budget is expected to be in the neighborhood of some $600,000, Bizke reported. Last year's budget was approved at $513,257 and anticipated receipts at $518,257.

Bizke, who reviewed last year's budget requests and made recommendations after six to eight weeks of administrative sessions and study only to have the Township Board hold their own hearings decided that he will present the 1968-69 budget directly to the Township Board for their review and approval. By so doing, he stated, he hoped that it would facilitate reaching final decision on budget items.

IN MY first term, as Mayor, we purchased a new American LaFrance Fire Engine for the Fire Department. This expense was criticized by some, but we recognized the needed protection from the devastating effects of fire. We would much prefer to have the equipment and not need it, then to need it and not have it.

At a special election held, civil service rights and benefits were approved and provided for all city employees. We replaced the sewer in Liberty Street to Huron River Drive, this completing a long needed project. This eliminated problems which had been plaguing us. We put stone on the unpaved streets in Belleville and have been making every effort to maintain and improve them. This was done under the handicap of unusually inclement and damaging weather.

Our paramount problem at present is the drainage of storm water. Early in the new term plans are being implemented to provide an adequate storm sewer from East Huron River Drive to the lake. This will eliminate the unpleasant sewer back-up and the resulting damage and expense in the R.W. Clark subdivision. For the balance of the city, federal aid was necessary and our progress was aggravated and slowed by the frustrating delays of government procedures. In spite of this, our engineering plans have been drawn and the fee paid. We secured an interest-free loan of $37,000 from the planning fund in Washington.

WE HAVE applied for Federal assistance of $221,000 for the project of our "need" has already been certified. If the HUD (Housing and Urban Development) proceeds as expected, this aid will be funded in the second quarter of 1968. Our "Workable Program Re-Certification," which must be in effect in order to receive any federal aid whatsoever, has been approved by the District HUD Office in Chicago, and word was just received that Washington has approved. We are keenly aware that there are other needed improvements and further progress to be accomplished.

Belleville as the smallest city in Michigan has the lowest budget, but we pledge continued progress and improvement while maintaining our present tax level.

It has been our pleasure to serve the citizens of Belleville in the past, I, personally, have served one term on the City Planning Commission; two terms on the City Council; and for two terms as Mayor. The City Council has established a pattern of harmony and accomplishment and continued progress is our goal.

Your vote April 1, 1968, would be sincerely appreciated.

AT SPECIAL MEETING

Rezoning OK For Mobile Home Site By VB Board is Again Rescinded

BELLEVILLE -- Action taken at a special meeting of the Van Buren Township Board last Thursday, March 21, rescinding a prior Township Board's rejection of the rezoning of 50 acres of land in Van Buren of a proposed mobile home park was again reversed and rejected by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday night.

The land, owned by Vertex Development Company, located in Romulus, is situated on Hanan Road between Ecorse and Van Buren Roads. The firm also owns 250 acres of land adjacent to the site involved in the rezoning controversy.

The firm's request to rezone the land from heavy industry to trailer park was approved by the Township Board last November, 1967. This action was later rescinded by the Board when description of property lines were found "faulty." The firm then submitted correct description data. Both the Township Planning Commission and the Wayne County Planning Commission recommended approval.

WHEN THE rezoning request was again presented to the Township Board, March 12, the petition was denied by a vote of 4 to 3. Louis A. Toth, supervisor, voted against rezoning thus breaking a 3 to 3 tie.

Vote Lists Increasing

BELLEVILLE -- Van Buren Township's vote registrations are increasing, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk, reported Monday.

Since last week's call to residents to be sure to register if they want to vote in the May 7 Referendum Vote, 77 new registrations have been added to the vote registry. The present total of eligible registrations now stand at 3,954.

Mrs. Payne announced that the deadline to register for the May 7 election is April 5 and not March 29 as previously reported.

The clerk's office will take registrations from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on April 5. And the office will be opened from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, March 30.

Teachers Contract Talks Set

BELLEVILLE -- A meeting inaugurating initial negotiations for a 1968-69 employment contract for teachers in the Van Buren Public Schools will be held tomorrow, (Thursday, March 28), Harold O. Wetherell, school superintendent, announced.

The session will call together negotiators of the Van Buren Education Association and School Board members.

Last week the Association's negotiating team presented to the School Board their preliminary submission to the proposed amendments to the current Master Agreement between the Board of Education and the Association. A request for a meeting for March 25 was rescheduled for March 28. The Association represents some 300 teachers now on the staff of the school district. Kenneth Askew, English teacher at Belleville High School, is chief negotiator. He will be assisted by William Chizmar, teacher at Elwell School; and Roland Wolfe, also a teacher but currently the librarian at the high school.

PCHA Directors Approved Higher 1968-69 Budget

WAYNE -- The Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority unanimously approved a 1968-69 PCHA budget of $17,865,000 at last Thursday's Board meeting.

The PCHA owns and operates four hospital units in Wayne and Washtenaw Counties: Annapolis Hospital, Wayne; Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti; Outer Drive Hospital, Lincoln Park; and Seaway Hospital, Trenton.

The new PCHA operating budget is approximately $1,450,000 more than last year.

The budget continues to hold the line against the steady national increase in hospital costs, directors reported. It represents a net increase of nine percent, compared with an 11.3 percent last year.

charges, PCHA hospitals are still generally lower than comparable Detroit metropolitan hospitals. For example, the new semi-private rate at PCHA hospitals, if approved, would be $37, effective July 1, 1968, compared with charges of up to $42, per day at other hospitals. Similarly, the new PCHA delivery room rate of $42, compares with as much as $60 to $70 charged by some other hospitals.

According to Karl S. Klicka, M.D., Executive Director of PCHA, the 9% increase in the 1968-69 budget is due almost entirely to increased wages and salaries of hospital personnel.

"LAST YEAR," said Klicka, "92 percent of the budget increase was due to wages and salaries, while this year virtually all of our increase will go to pay personnel."

Klicka also explained that taxes paid by participating communities into PCHA cannot be used for day-to-day operation of unit hospitals, but must be restricted to paying for the expansion, replacement or construction of the hospitals.

"Your tax dollar builds or replaces needed hospital facilities, but the charges for service keep the hospital open," he added.

IN ADDITION the new budget also provides $815,000 for the start-up costs of the expanded portion of Seaway Hospital. The gross PCHA budget totals $18,470,000.

Because the national increase in hospital costs this past year averaged 11-12 percent, the 1968-69 PCHA budget increase of nine percent is considered to be both realistic and reasonable by Roger J. Remer, Chairman of the PCHA Finance Committee.

The new budget was approved unanimously by the Operating Committee recommended to the full board of directors.

THE OPERATING Committee also approved a $2, per day increase in room service charges at the four PCHA hospitals. Adjustments were also made in such other hospital services as operating room, delivery, intensive care and anesthesia. Remer pointed out that despite the proposed increases in room and ancillary service

School Board Wins Case

BELLEVILLE -- A complaint charging discrimination and filed against the Van Buren Township Board of Education by the parents of a ninth grade Sumpter Township student has been dismissed by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

The complaint filed by Walter Wiley of 22871 Martinsville Road, accused the School Board of discrimination when it refused his son enrollment in Belleville High School in January, 1966.

The decision and disposition of the complaint by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission was received by school officials last week. It was dated March 16 and signed by Burton L. Gordon, executive director, Harold O. Wetherell, school superintendent, disclosed.

The commission dismissed the father's action on grounds of "insufficient evidence." The ruling stated: "It is recommended that this complaint be dismissed for insufficient evidence to support a lawful action of discrimination."

The commission reported that an examination of the School Board's meetings and a resolution adopted on acceptance of future outside tuition students starting in September, 1965, proved conclusively of no racial discrimination but purely a matter of increasing enrollments at the time.

In September, 1965, school officials in Sumpter Township were reminded that the Van Buren School System would no longer take additional outside tuition students. This was in line with a School Board action taken in 1962.

Wetherell explained that increasing enrollments in the school system prohibited the taking on of more outside tuition students.

Civil Rights Commission investigators made a minute study and review of the School Board's meetings held before and during the period involved in the complaint and found no cause for action, the superintendent reported.

Four Seek Romulus Board Post

ROMULUS -- Nominating petitions for Romulus Township's two trustees' terms expiring this year have been taken out by four aspirants, Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, reported.

The terms of Township Trustees Jimmie C. Raspberry of 36254 Park Place; and Norbert Wegienka of 13702 Harrison are expiring this year. Both Raspberry and Wegienka are seeking re-election. Nominating petitions were taken out for them last week.

Wegienka personally appeared at the clerk's office for his petitions. Ellis T. Pennington, a township trustee, requested petitions, reporting that they were for Raspberry.

OTHERS PROCURING petitions were Robert D. Plank of 14459 Merriman road, who ran against Edmund Bizek for supervisor in 1966, and Roderick E. Smith of 7300 Taft, Inkster, former township clerk. The primary election will be held on Aug. 6. Perry in issuing the nominating petitions reported that office seekers must procure not less than one percent or not more than four percent of the Secretary of State's vote total of their party's vote in the township's last primary election.

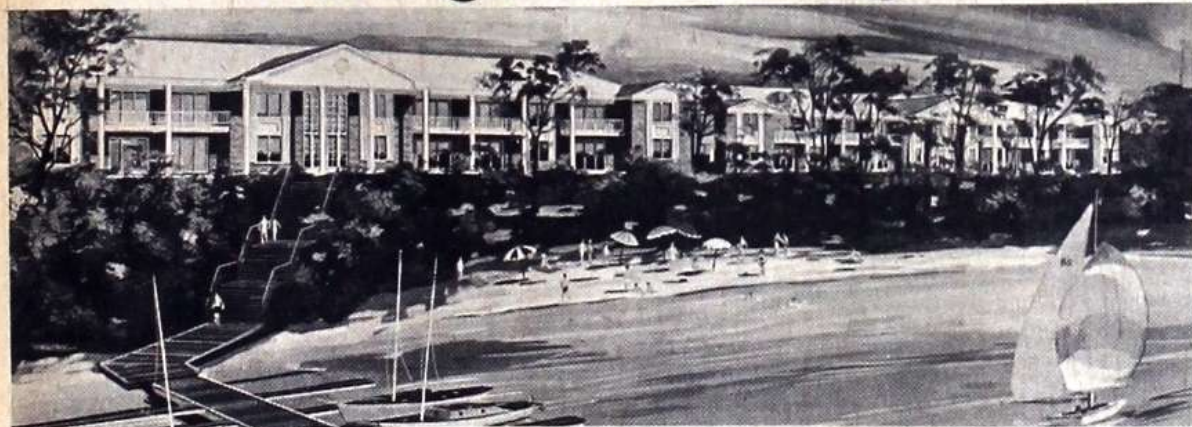

Deadline for filing petitions is June 18 at 4 p.m., Perry said.

VOTE ON PROPOSED CHANGE MAY 7

Readers and Builder Air Views On Zoning Dispute

TO THE EDITOR:

For the record, I would like to comment on Chapter Two of "The Frank Volk Story," which appeared in last week's paper. The Van Buren Civic Association agrees with Mr. Volk that "communities that make much of single homes to the exclusion of other things are in serious trouble."

We have never advocated making our township a community exclusively of single homes. Nothing would make us happier than to see a company like Ford, for instance, build a large plant in Van Buren and carry 80% of our tax load, as it does Dearborn's. We have considerable acreage already zoned industrial that would be ideal for such a plant, and none of it lies in prime residential areas. We will continue to urge township officials to encourage this type of development in order to ease our individual tax loads.

For a prime residential area such as Mc Mullan's property, the people of this community would welcome the type of single-home development that Mr. Volk recently completed in Livonia. He is justifiably proud of Golfview Manor, and we would be, too. It has a population density of no more than two or three families per acre. This would be consistent with the existing residential homes near the Mc Mullan property.

BUT MR. VOLK plans to start his apartment project by building 228 units on ten acres along the lake shore. This figures out to nearly 23 family units per acre in a neighborhood which now averages about two families per acre!

This extremely high density of people, once allowed, would establish a precedent for other developers. On what grounds could the township officials refuse the next developer who wants to come in with a similar project and still avoid a charge of favoritism? Make no mistake about this: others will bring tremendous pressure to come in.

The money to be made out of high density apartments is far more than most people realize. Frank Volk knows how high the stakes are. He is already planning almost an exact duplicate of his proposed 2,000 unit complex on the McMullan property. This second project would be located at Bridge and Grove roads in Ypsilanti Township on Ford Lake.

Add 2000 more apartments to those still going up along the same shore line on Grove road: Where will it stop? Do we want this to happen in Van Buren Township?

Now is the time for the ordinary citizen to take a stand against this mad scramble to make quick fortunes. Now is the time for the people of Van Buren to say, "This is our community, and we are going to develop it our way!"

James L. Borst

To The Editor;
Open Letter to Van Buren Township Board.

Congratulations to the Van Buren Township Board for their action in rejecting the rezoning of Township property for a new mobile home site. I believe the supervisor exercised very good judgment in breaking the tie by voting against the rezoning.

I read with considerable interest the article in Enterprise Roman which indicated the developer, Mr. Cox, had threatened our Township officials and would institute a suit in Wayne County Circuit Court. The report, however, did not make it very clear what the basis of the suit would be or why he was threatening our Township Board, who certainly acted within their delegation of authority. It is quite obvious that the public opinion in Van Buren Township is against any new mobile home sites. I would like to know now who is really running our Township.

It seems quite obvious that the land developers and speculators are using our Township officials to promote their own interests rather than the good of the community. Believe history is repeating itself, and the next step will be a Grand Jury investigation of these unwarranted and selfish actions of land promoters and developers.

A REAL SURPRISE move was made by the developer by calling a special Township Board Meeting on Thursday evening, at which time he was able to convince the Board their previous action was not in his best interest. As a result, the Board has now approved the rezoning.

A copy of this letter is being sent to the Wayne County Prosecutor and Attorney General requesting a complete investigation of the actions of our Township Board to determine as to whether or not the actions are legal, and to determine why the land developer has threatened to institute suits in the Wayne County Circuit Court against our Township officials.

It is quite obvious the people have only one choice in matters of this type, and that is to put it to the vote of the people whose decision is final. I am sure the mobile home site rezoning will be rejected by the people in the same way that they have to decide the rezoning for 2,000 apartments at McMullan Point.

It is my opinion that the people of the Township are not against good planning and land use and certainly do not object to multiple dwellings; however, when the selfish land developers and promoters are using our Township officials as they have in the rezoning for mobile homes, as well as McMullan Point, we only have one choice, and that is to turn down the whole program.

A Concerned Taxpayer

TO THE EDITOR:

Two letters in last week's letter box deserve answers because again they are filled with a lack of information and assumptions bearing no relation to facts. Since the start, I have been ready to answer questions and am still willing. The community is fortunate to have the letter box available to it, because valid questions should be asked and should be answered in print, for the record.

1. One question mentions property on Ford Lake in Ypsilanti Township. This land was purchased 10 years ago by myself and two partners. It has been rezoned for multiples. I have only a minor interest in this property and will not be active in its development.

2. The same writer again mentions the Vincent property. The answer published earlier remains the same. I have never been interested in that property, have never talked to the Vincents and don't know where the property is.

3. He cites heavier auto traffic. Certainly there will be heavier auto traffic - whether Lakeland Park is built or not. Van Buren is due for growth. Lakeland Park will contribute no more traffic than the same number of single homes. Building of Lakeland Park will take five to 10 years. There will be no deluge of new residents, but a steady growth that would parallel growth of other types. Traffic will move largely via the service drive and the freeway.

BY COMPLETION of the first phase, some 300 cars will be involved. The step-up will run about the same for each phase over five to 10 years. Wayne County officials say that when a traffic problem arises, priorities will be changed to permit correction.

Further, concentration of these residents - and the proposed density is not a high one - will be advantageous to the township. Single home areas require streets, which are dedicated over to the township and afterward become the maintenance responsibility of the township. Lakeland Park will have no new streets to become burdensome.

Denton and Beckley roads and the service drive will be the only public streets, and these are already there. Denton and Beckley will be concrete paved at my expense along the property and hence will require even less maintenance than they now get.

4. He talks of "upwards of 1,000 boats" on the lake and this also has been answered previously. No-one can control traffic from other sources, but Lakeland Park CAN and WILL control boating by its residents. Also, its mere existence will end the public launching traffic at McMullan Point that was not controlled at all in prior years. Boat traffic will be far less than half of earlier summers from this land.

5. The substantial people who will be able to pay the $190 to $300 monthly rents for luxury accommodations will be at least 50 percent in the category of people who have raised their families and no longer wish the burdens of home ownership. The others will be largely young marrieds who will, of course, have children. Industry records show that such people live in apartments until about the middle of the second pregnancy, which occurs before the first child has reached school age. They then start looking for a home - and become good prospects for homes in the same area. None will be "transients" because leases will be at least a year in length.

6. In contrast to an implication that industry avoids "bedroom" communities, industry does not avoid any area where it is welcomed and encouraged and WHERE THERE ARE WORKERS plus the necessary facilities.

6. The township's "master plan" was approved in 1966 after four years of work. No-one could have predicted, even in 1966, that the Detroit area would build more than 12,000 apartments in 1967 and that the trend to apartments would accelerate even faster in the years ahead because of soaring home costs. In any case, a master plan is never a fixed thing, but rather is a living thing, like the law is a living thing.

IT ADJUSTS daily to the times and the changes in people. Any professional planner makes this very clear at the outset. Changes in people, in this case, involve economies but also preferences.

Many older people have taken the trouble to examine the superior modern apartments and now prefer them to other forms of housing. The word "renter," once derided, now usually means one who is sufficiently affluent to have travel, business or recreational interests that work best in apartment circumstances.

7. The only reservation on the part of the county planning commission was a matter of timing. The facts of building life and economics alone will take care of this. Growth of 400 small families a year for the next five years, or 200 annually if Lakeland Park takes 10 years, might easily be expected from any kind of growth.

8. The figure of $400,000 to $800,000 was used originally before the township people as a simple matter of conservatism. New township estimates put the figure at near the top right now. Whatever the figure, it was sufficiently impressive to win the approval of the planning commission and the township board, acting in the best interests of ALL the people.

9. I have no associates in the project except my four married children and 12 grandchildren, and my attorney has a very small interest. As mentioned in last week's paper, the children and grandchildren have a 75 percent interest under a trust guaranteeing long-term ownership.

10. Another writer disagrees with a comparison between industry and apartments in tax attractions. However, authorities like the Urban Land Institute, national nonprofit research organization, do make the comparison. Both yield tax base far above their cost to the community.

HE SAYS also that industry has its own fire and police service. Some very large, heavy industry does provide its own internal security police and fire equipment. But the great bulk of industry does not, relying instead on local services, as it has a right to do, especially because of its heavy tax contribution.

He says also that additional people will require a "considerable increase in police and fire service." As a matter of fact, the experience record shows no additional police will be required because of the apartment development itself. We will have our own security service, just as we will have our own private trash and garbage removal.

Fire service would be less than for a group of single homes. New buildings, wired and heated to modern code requirements, are no-where near as fire-prone as old homes, often built without code supervision and with faulty wiring and ancient heating equipment. Records show that other kinds of fires are few and minor. One luxury group of 222 apartments that I know about has not had a single fire call since its opening two years ago.

12. He talks of increased burden to the school system, and says no-one can control the number of children. I have publicly stated in print that the only school-age children who will be permitted will be of high school age. My own Fairlane Apartments in Taylor have just three of these in 204 apartments. This would put the Lakeland Park total at 30 or thereabouts.

These 30 would arrive over the five to 10-year period and hence would hardly be noticed.

In short, both letters imply added burdens to the community, while in fact Lakeland Park will LIFT BURDENS. These substantial renters will be covering their own needs in the township, but more than that WILL BE HELPING TO PAY THE SERVICE AND SCHOOL COSTS OF OWNERS OF SINGLE HOMES.

Frank J. Volk Sr., and the Volk Family prises will most likely bring another $1,000,000. Most of this money will go to education and my children. We have all seen the site plan for Mr. Volk's apartments. Anyone with half a brain must realize that this park-like project would be much more beautiful than row upon row of homes.

AS FOR the traffic, the Wayne County Highway Department says that the Belleville bridge and roads would be replaced and repaired when the traffic warrants it. As for the use of Belleville Lake Mr. Volk is the only one who can control the use of boats on the lake from his land. Certainly no homeowner or even Mr. McMullan has or will control them.

Therefore it must be concluded that Mr. Bly and Mr. Borst have ulterior motives. I understand that Mr. Borst is retiring soon from his job as a Ypsilanti police captain and is very interested in entering politics. Could he be using Lakeland Park as a controversy to get his name better known to Van Buren residents?

If this is the case, his name will become known as someone who has opposed lowering taxes for the common people like myself and my neighbors. Mr. Bly says he has no political ambitions. I wonder?

As for the lake residents, maybe these people have all the money in the world to pay township and school taxes, but I don't and neither do my neighbors.

Therefore I urge all Van Buren residents to band together and march to the polls May 7 to vote for Lakeland Park.

Let's show the unconcerned political aspirants and people who can afford high taxes that we, the taxpayers of Van Buren want a luxury apartment development to offset higher taxes. Vote Yes.

Letter to Editor:

The question arises. Why are Mr. Bly and Mr. Borst opposed to the Lakeland Park Apartments development? Why are some of those people who have $40,000 to $100,000 homes around the lake opposed to the apartments?

All of these people know that the apartments will bring nearly $800,000 in taxes directly into Van Buren. They must also know that stores and shops and possibly shopping centers and other commercial enter-

John M. Sinclair Finishes Course

NEW BOSTON -- Army Private John M. Sinclair, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sinclair, 36532 Union street, completed an engineer assistant course (March 16) at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

During the seven-week course, he was trained to operate and maintain air compressors, engines, crane shovels and tractors.

The Lenten Season

(continued from page 1) quences. If he is to be accused of treason, of subversion, of blasphemy--so be it. He came to do His Father's will and He will do so until the end.

In this Gospel Christ fearlessly uses such strong language that He seals His own doom. He announces that He is "greater than Abraham." The words "before Abraham even existed, I am" proclaim His divinity. These words will boomerang upon Him at His trial, when the high priest roars at Him, "I order you to tell us under oath before the living God whether you are the Messiah, the Son of God" and to Christ's answer, "As you say," declares, "He has blasphemed."

 YET EVEN as He seals His doom, Christ speaks in accents of victory and triumph-- "I will never see death," "Abraham rejoiced to see my day," especially the very word of God. "I am." Jesus proclaims that even evil is about to attack Him and seek to destroy Him. He will destroy evil in the process and triumph over it.

In the second place, the enemies of Christ are already judged.

Jesus pronounced the sentence of rejection upon them. These men are sinning against the light. They do not know God because they choose to make Him into their own image. They are, as Jesus calls them, liars. Yet these are the most respected and feared men among the people of God, those who have the true religion.

They are the "establishment," yet they are rejected by God.

Herein is a serious warning for us. We take comfort in the fact that we belong to the true church. We are apt to be smug and to feel that salvation is ours. The words of Christ warn us today: Only those who HEAR are God's own -- "the man who belongs to God hears the words of God. It is God's Word we must listen to. God's will we must accept, not a water - down version that suits our ease and convenience. Only those who "keep" Christ's word will never see death.

It is not enough to "believe" that word merely in the intellect; we must put it into practice in our lives. Our Lord is telling us today that we must be dedicated to the will of the Father as He was, must do it at whatever cost to ourselves as He did. We may well be slandered and rejected as He was if we do God's will and speak up against prejudice and injustice.

For example when we voice our opinion against discrimination in housing, working conditions, education, and many other fields. We may suffer persecution as He did and even, conceivably, be put to death (witness the civil rights slayings in the South in recent years). But living the Gospel entails these things, as the life of Jesus shows us and it is only through the acceptance of sufferings -- the consequences of hearing and keeping the word of God--that we like Christ, can overcome evil and enter into glory.

 IN CONCLUSION, as we enter Passiontide, we should keep in mind the words Our Lord speaks to us today: "If a man keeps my word, he will never see death."

Our faith leads us to life, everlasting life, in the state of glory. Passiontide is necessary, but it is not the end, it is the prelude to Easter. As we celebrate the Eucharist today, let us couple these words of our Savior to those other words of His, "He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has life everlasting and I will raise him up on the last day. Let us enter into the spirit of Passiontide now, so that we may rejoice with Christ on Easter Sunday.

A LENTEN DISH--Scalloped Macaroni Casserole has the tang of tomato slices, the crispness of bread crumbs, and the crunchiness of green pepper. It's easy to prepare--whether you're a seasoned cook or only a beginner--and makes an ideal meatless dish for Lenten season dinners.

Macaroni Delights For Lenten Dinners

What would we do without pasta -- especially during the Lenten season! This Italian staple has been thoroughly "naturalized by American cooks, and is now as familiar a part of our national fare as hot dogs or hamburgers.

And no wonder: pasta is the busy homemaker's lifesaver. It mixes well with a huge variety of foods, in soups, salads, casseroles; as if to underscore its versatility, it comes in an intriguing assortment of shapes and sizes. In all its many forms, children and adults both love it.

Spaghetti is said to have been borrowed from the Chinese -- by explorer Marco Polo. Macaroni has a royal lineage dating back to earliest times. By the 13th century, it had become a favorite of Italian emperor Frederick II. The story goes that he coined the name "Macaroni" from "marcus," meaning a divine dish.

Spanish explorers introduced macaroni to America in the 16th century, but it wasn't until the end of the Civil War, with the influx of Italian immigrants, that macaroni became an important food in this country. Like many other items, it passed from the hand-made stage to the Machine Age. Now consumption is at an all time high.

Much of this current popularity can be traced to convenient macaroni mixes complete with seasoning sauces. These mixes form the basis for simple lunches or company dinners, served "as is" or with your own creative touches. To start you off in the right direction, here are three ways to prepare macaroni, all beginning with a basic mix. The recipes were developed and tested by the Golden Grain kitchens.

SCALLOPED MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 pkg. scallop-a-roni 4 to 6 thin tomato slices
1 tsp. butter 1 cup buttered bread crumbs
2-1/2 cups boiling water 1/4 cup chopped green pepper

Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs mixed with green pepper. Continue baking, uncovered, for 10 minutes, or until bread crumbs are crisp and macaroni is tender.

Bread Crumbs: Melt 2 tsp. butter in fry pan. Add bread crumbs and green pepper. Heat and toss gently. Serves 4.

MACARONI DIVINE

1 pkg. scallop-a-roni 1 cup chopped ham
1 tsp. butter 1 jar (4 oz.) mushroom pieces
2-1/2 cups boiling water 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
Oven temperature: 375°

Prepare scallop-a-roni with butter, boiling water and seasoning according to package directions. Add ham, mushrooms and cheese. Stir, cover and bake 30 minutes (stir once after 15 minutes). Serve immediately. Serves 4.

Take Not Food For Granted
America, the land of plenty, and plenty of it in food, no longer has any surplus in this commodity. All surpluses have been depleted.
Food prices which have been influenced by plentiful supplies in the past will now have to be reckoned without the surplus. Not only have the surpluses been depleted but the demand for food throughout the world also indicates that from now on all food production will be used to satisfy appetites rather than keeping storage facilities filled.

AAUW To Hear Professor On 'Politics In Education'

Dr. Thomas M. Gwaltney, Associate Professor in the Department of Education, Eastern Michigan University, will speak about Politics in Public Education at the meeting of the American Association of University Women Thursday evening at 8:00 in the Alumni Lounge, McKenny Union, EMU.

Although Dr. Gwaltney has long been interested in the political influences on education, he is currently very actively involved as the Legislative Chairman of the local branch of the Michigan Association of Higher Education and as a member of the State Legislative Committee from the same organization.

"The roots of American education were politically based," says Dr. Gwaltney. "There was an apolitical period in the early 1900's but we are once again in an intensely political period."

He will discuss some of the political ramifications of the present, something which is an interest and concern of nearly everyone today.

Because of this general interest, a special invitation is being extended to the public to attend the meeting.

Dr. Gwaltney received his B.S. degree from Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, Missouri and his M.S. and Ph.D. Degrees from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. He spent several years teaching in elementary schools and at the University level before coming to Eastern Michigan University in 1964.

FLYING CAMEL--The World War I tiny King of Dogfighters, the Sopwith Camel, did not require much runway for a quick take-off. This was one reason why airdromes of the first war were set-up over night at most any location or farm where there was level land in any direction of at least one mile, sometimes less. This is the airplane the kiddies' idol, "Snoopy", favors for his duels with the "Red Baron."

Red Baron's Nemesis Was "Sopwith Camel"

SNOOPY and PEANUTS have become one of the most popular comic strips in the nation today. The continual sequences of the hero, Snoopy, and his sparring and fighting with the Red Baron have the kiddies, and some adults, too, looking forward to the next day's episode.

In their aerial conflicts, Snoopy's flying steed comes into the spotlight with regularity. The Sopwith Camel has become famous all over again, but as with many other items in the current generation, the question is asked: What is a Sopwith Camel? A myth? Not really, because there really was a Sopwith Camel.

The Sopwith Camel was a product of a man who built many famous fighter planes during World War I. T.O. Sopwith, like other British aircraft builders in early days of the first great war, faced a tremendous pressure of demand for aircraft to combat the German Imperial Air Force. The Royal Air Force's entire aircraft inventory when war broke out in 1914 was under 30 airplanes.

None of these early fighter "scouts" were armed as they were to be in later years. In the early days, pilots would fly past each other and use pistols and rifles to shoot at the other in flight. It has been said that some of the early pioneers of this type of aerial combat even threw bricks at each other. There were numerous reports of where a German and Allied airplane would fly along side each other for miles fighting in this fashion, but there is no record of anyone ever downing another aircraft in such combat.

The Camel was one aircraft brought about by the need for a good, fast fighter airplane. In just about eight weeks after being created on the drawing board, the first Camel was flown. This was about midway through the war. By this time, the method of firing machine guns through the propeller had been perfected and the first "real" British fighter airplane took to the skies.

The Camel was the first RAF fighter to pack twin Vickers machine guns and they were concealed under a "hump" behind the engine. This "hump" brought about the name "Camel" that was to make this aircraft a legendary figure.

The young pilots were quick to take to the tiny fighter. It was very small even for its era. It was flown with many different types of engines and was very temperamental, but it could out maneuver any German planes in the skies with the exception of the Red Baron's famous Fokker D.I Tri-plane.

Extra swift right turns were possible due to the torque effect of the rotary engine, but on left hand turns there was a tendency for a nose drop out and in those days a tight turn could bring on a fatal spin.

The small Camel was one of the smallest airplanes built for aerial combat. Its wing span was 28-feet and only 8-feet 6-inches high. Less than 19-feet long with the 130 H.P. Clerget Rotary engine it could attain a speed of 115 miles per hour.

All time fame that made the name Sopwith Camel almost a legendary airplane came on April 21, 1918, when a young pilot Captain Roy A. Brown of the Royal Canadian Air Force, shot down Germany's top ace and greatest hero, the "Red Baron", Baron Von Manfred Richthofen, over an obscure French village, Sully-le-Sec, after a swirling dog-fight.

From that day on the Sopwith Camel was to live in a hall of fame with the many other fighter airplanes that were to follow in the years to come. To this date several "re-stored" models are still in existence and flying with clubs and on display at museums throughout the world.

In its day it became known as the "King of Dogfighters" and accounted for, according to official records, 1624 German aircraft during World War I. Top Aces of the RAF flew the tiny Camel even when newer aircraft were available. Several Camel flying pilots were known to have scored five and six "kills" in one day and while, as in any air force, some pilots would not touch it, other pilots would have no other. . . in either case, the Sopwith "Camel" was never treated without full respect.

HELPING THEIR DAD-- Shovelling snow was the weekend task for most of area residents including old and young alike. Richard and Edward Wilson, sons of George C. Wilson of 42615 East Huron River Drive, pitched in and shovelled their way from home to roadway. Last week's snowfall of over seven inches was unexpected.

Musical Entries Win In Junior High Talent Show

By Mrs. William Hovenstein 753-3801

Huron Junior High students participated in a talent show sponsored by the Student Council on Wednesday, March 20. First place winners were Larry Bryant and Rich Summers who teamed up to delight their audience by singing and playing musical instruments. They received a cash prize of $10.

Second place winner was Corliss Wisniewski whose display of talent on the accordion brought her a prize of $5. A band, consisting of Steve Pichan, Rich Kerd, Bob Helwig and Chris Nazarchuk, took third place and were the winners of a cash prize of $3.

The Huron Township Jaycettes attended the Spring District Meeting held at the Allen Park Motor Lodge Thursday, March 21. The purpose of the meeting was to elect a district vice-president. Edith Prez, of Melvindale, was elected to the office. She will also serve as representative for this area at State Jaycettes meetings.

At each district meeting a travel trophy is given to the chapter that has traveled the greatest distance and has the most members present. This trophy was awarded to the Huron Township Chapter and is now displayed in the home of Jaycettes president, Mrs. Alex Pachy, who accepted it on behalf of the membership. The Huron group was very pleased to have 100% attendance at the evening meeting.

The Huron girls were decked out in the new uniforms they have just finished sewing. They will also wear these attractive uniforms at the Jaycees Millionaires Party on April 27. The party will be co-hosted by the Wayne County Sportsmen and will be held at their park on Inkster road.

Mrs. Catherine Charlesworth, secretary, has announced that the next regular meeting of the Huron Senior Citizens will be held April 2 at 1:30 p.m. at the Waltz Fire Hall.

Members hope to finalize plans for their Second Anniversary Celebration to be held April 16. The party was originally scheduled for April 2 but has been postponed to the April 16 date.

Liz Krause is now associated with the Vivand Woodward Company as a beauty consultant. She has been trained by the company and is available to individuals or groups for demonstrations on the art of applying make-up. She can be reached at her residence, 36867 Violet street, or by calling 753-9516.

The Huron Girl Scouts regret that the movie of the Indian Girl Guides scheduled to be shown at their International Friendship Fair, March 15, was not shown. The gym in which the Fair was held could not be adequately darkened for the film to be shown successfully.

The Scouts of Troop 285 extend an invitation to anyone interested in seeing the film to attend their regular meeting tonight, Wednesday, March 27, at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the multi-purpose room of the New Boston Elementary School.

The Huron Schools PTA held its March meeting on Thursday, the 21st, at Riverside Elementary School. Plans were discussed for the coming spring festival which is to be held in May.

Under discussion for the past few months has been the subject of separating the group into two or more divisions in an effort to stimulate more participation from the parents throughout the district. This idea has now been abandoned in favor of disbanding the present group completely at the end of the school year due to lack of interest on the part of the general public. All obligations and plans for the remainder of this year will however be fulfilled.

In an assembly at the Huron Junior High School on Friday March 15 awards were presented to the basketball players and cheerleaders.

Coach Joe Brosnan presented awards to ninth grade basketball players Rick Tipper, Captain; Randy Gorham, most valuable player; Don Mittlestat, Tom Umin, Butch Suemnick, Glen Dreganski, John Ruby, Bill Rouse, John Shine, Rick Kerd, Jack Gracia, Jack Reeves, Bob Helwig, Cornell Breaz, Gary Grokiewicz and Dennis Krzminski.

The award for the most Valuable Player was presented to Randy Gorham by Ralph Dugan, of New Boston.

Seventh and eighth grade basketball awards were presented by Coach Henry Smith to Ron Bice, Don Clark, Frank Causey, Arthur Sarkinen, Asher Hickman, Fred Cordis, Duane McDavid, Dennis Bowman, Mario Gracia, Bruno Duchaine, Charles Pearson, Paul Engle, Ron Thompson, Mike Dziobak, Charles Inman, James Pasek, Robert Edmonds and Mark Mittlestat.

Students' Science Fair Judging Set April 5-9

The wonderful world of science--teen-age--style will unfold to metropolitan area residents at the 11th annual Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair. The over 3,000 new science projects exhibits are designed and built by public, parochial and private junior and senior high school students. All projects on display at 11 separate Regional Fairs held March 22 and 23 will be competing for the honor of being exhibited and judged in the Metropolitan Science Fair in Cobo Hall, April 5-9.

Awards for excellence are being given to senior high school students for projects in botany, zoology, chemistry, earth and space science, health and medicine, mathematics, and physics. Junior high school students will compete for awards in experiments, collections and graphic arts.

State Champ Leads All-Area Mat Selections

WARRICK, LANE, WILLIAMS REPEAT HONORS

Randy Rodriguez, the first state champ produced in this area in recent years, leads this year's Associated Newspapers' 1968 All-Area Wrestling selections.

The 17-year-old Wayne Memorial grappler won the state title in the 133-pound class to climax a 22-1 overall season. Rodriguez also was declared the Regional champ as well as the first Sauk Trail Conference champ in his category.

A three-year mat veteran coached by Ray Rafford, Rodriguez has compiled an awesome 50-14 overall record for his prep career. That record sets a new win-loss mark for Wayne grapplers.

Also on this year's ANP selection is Belleville's Brad Warrick, a 95-pound grappler who wound up in second place in the state after claiming the Regional and Suburban Six Conference crowns.

Warrick, a 17-year-old junior who has wrestled for coach Jim Richendollar for the past three years, has accumulated a 36-1 record for the season which includes the Garden City East Invitational as well as the Wayne Quadrangular titles.

Warrick as well as Glenn's Ray Lane and Romulus' Nate Williams are left-overs from last year's "All-Area" team. Others who were picked are Dave Arbie (John Glenn); Rich Stewart (Garden City West); Mike Jose (Garden City East); Ralph Logan (Romulus); Dave Shinn (Wayne Memorial); Frank Rekieta (Livonia Franklin); Darrell Whipple (Garden City East); and Ron Woody (John Glenn).

Shinn, the second member of Wayne's squad to make the All-Area grade also has the distinction of being the first Sauk Trail Conference champ in the 138-pound class.

A 17-year-old senior with three-years of varsity experience behind him, Shinn was the regional champ and was among the 10 from the area who qualified for the State Tourney.

He came back from an operation early in the season to pile up a 15-3 record for the season and finishes his prep wrestling career with a 38-14 record.

Garden City West and coach Dean Shipman's lone representative to the mythical wrestling team is 112-pounder Rick Stewart who is only a sophomore.

Stewart chalked up a 17-3-1 overall record in his wrestling debut at West and placed fourth in the Regionals, missing out going to the state.

The 15-year-old grappler wrestled one year at Radcliff Junior High and, with two more years of competition ahead of him, fans will certainly be hearing a lot about him before he wraps up his career.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

The Trip to Ann Arbor

All roads for us at the Associated Newspapers led to Ann Arbor last Wednesday night where Garden City East and coach Billy Joe Young had a date with Detroit Catholic Central and coach Billy Foley. That date was to determine which of the two cage hawks would advance to the State Class A semifinals.

Well, what happened is past cage history - the outcome is known to all who cared to know. East fell to Catholic Central and Catholic Central eventually fell to Ypsilanti and Ypsi fell to Grand Rapids-Ottawa Hills which was crowned the 1968 Michigan High School Class A Champ.

Going up to Ann Arbor with the boss, Ray Clift, his wife, Ruth - both ardent cage and Rouge fans; and our business editor, Bob McClellan, and Dave Wise, a sportscaster turned ad man for a living, the discussion turned to the South of us - to Indiana.

Indiana, of all places!

It appears that the Hoosiers do things a little different from us Michiganans.

Wise hails from down "South" and says we conduct our high school cage tournaments in the most unorthodox way.

Classless High School Basketball

"There's really no state champ up here," said the ad man nonchalantly and we editorial people fired back, "What do you mean? We have four classes and four champs, more than you do in Indiana."

"That's what I mean," inserted Wise, "You have four champs - not one which can be called the State Champ. Now in Indiana, where basketball is King, we have no classes and when the tournament ends the winner can call himself the real state champ."

We paused to gather up our arguments.

"How, in heavens name," asked Mr. Clift, co-publisher of the ANP newspapers, "could you compare a school with more than 6000 students to that of 550? Surely the bigger school would have the advantage and in my opinion that would be unfair."

"You tell em, boss," said I.

"I feel that our system here in Michigan gives big and small schools alike a fair chance to win the state championship," said Mr. Clift.

"Well, if you win in Indiana, you know you won something," replied Wise. "Up here, if you win you're a state champ in only one of four classes so, in reality, you're only one-quarter state champ."

My mathematical mind got to work and after an hour I figured he was right.

Was "classless" basketball the true way to determine a real, honest-to-goodness state champ?

A Pitch for Negro Referees

"How about something like this," asked McClellan, "after each of the four divisional champs are crowned, then a playoff between the Class A and Class B schools and between the Class C and D teams and the winners pairing off for the state title?"

"It's conceivable that one of the lower classes may knock off the Class A Champ," he said.

That's a possibility, isn't it?

Mrs. Clift, who knows as much about the game as any ref (better quality that statement fast) well, as much as any good ref, (that's better) says she is disappointed that Negroes, who excel in the game, don't take up refereeing.

"It's strange that they'll play," she says, "but why won't they ref games?"

The Clifts have been following Rouge and coach Lofton Greene around since 1954 and, needless to say, are puzzled on the outcome of the Class B title race.

Aren't we all!

Rouge fell in the regionals to Divine Child in overtime. But the Twin Valley Conference, in which Rouge is a member, again came up with a State champ when Willow Run polished

Honorable Mention

They earned the respect of rival coaches and opponents narrowly missed making the All-Area Wrestling line-up this year. Among those selected for Honorable Mention were Belleville's Steve Hampton, Ron Held and Phil Poet while Greg Stevens and Chuck Kline earned the recognition from Romulus.

Hampton, a 133-pounder, finished the year with a 15-5 record and will be around next year. Teammate Held wrapped up his wrestling career with an undefeated dual meet record in the 145 pound class and a first place at the Wayne Quadrangular.

Poet is also a junior with a year ahead of him. He placed second in the Suburban Six Conference in the 112 pound category.

Romulus' Greg Stevens also had an impressive year but yielded the 95-pound class berth to Warrick, a second place finisher in the state while teammate Chuck Kline stood-out as a 145-pounder.

WILLOW RUN 'B' CHAMPS

Grand Rapids Upsets Ypsi To Capture Class A Title

Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills unnoticed in the Class A State basketball ratings throughout the regular season surprised Ypsilanti, the No. 1 ranked team this season, 76-68, to capture the Class A crown at Jenison Fieldhouse Saturday night.

Ypsi, which polished off Detroit Catholic Central in the semis and was considered the favorite for the title, had won 24 consecutive games before yielding to the Grand Rapids quintet.

The newly crowned champs controlled the boards despite the all-out efforts of Ypsi's 6-9 All-State center, Craig Larsen, Larsen, who averaged 25 points per game during the season, was held to 13 for the night.

Ypsi tried everything from a full-court press to a zone defense in a futile effort to stop the Indians who went on a rampage for their first State Class A title.

Grand Rapids took the initiative and held it throughout most of the game as Ypsi's regulars found themselves in foul trouble. The Braves eventually lost Larsen as well as starting guards Al Richison and Bob Rhodin on fouls.

Ottawa Hills moved out in front 20-18 at the end of the first period and stayed ahead 37-29 at halftime as Richison's 60-foot desperation shot hit its target in the last second.

The Class A champs out-scored Ypsi 21-16 in the third period, and, although the Braves came back 23-18 in the final eight minutes of play, the damage had been fatal.

Richison, with 17, paced Ypsi's attack while Sidney Fyre and Larsen chipped in 14 and 13, respectively.

John Cryer emerged the game's individual high scorer when he finished up with 10 field goals and five free throws for 25 points. Otis Smith supported him with 15 while Per-

Rafford Named Mat Coach of the Year

Ray Rafford's enthusiasm for wrestling knows no season. The 28-year-old Wayne Memorial High head coach will discuss wrestling any time, any place, any month.

And his enthusiasm for the sport has rekindled a winning spirit at Wayne which has helped flood the gym with fans this season.

Rafford built the Zebras into one of the top teams not only in the Sauk Trail but in the area. He finished with a winning 9-3-1 overall season, second in the league, and with a state champ in Randy Rodriguez.

And for his outstanding contributions to wrestling, the ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS are proud to honor him as the Coach of the Year.

A 1962 graduate of Eastern Michigan where he earned his Bachelor of Science in Education, Rafford has coached wrestling and football for the past five years.

His first two years were spent at South Lyon where he launched the mat program and was football coach.

In 1966, Rafford and his wife, Barbara, moved to Westland where they presently reside. The Raffords have a 15-month-old daughter, Michele.

Wrestling, as in all sports, has its problems and one of the major problems confronting Rafford is teaching the finer points of the sport.

RAY RAFFORD
Coach of the Year

All-Area '5' Coming Up

The curtains fell on the 1968 high school basketball season Saturday night at Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing, but before sports editor, Tom Mooradian, can wrap up his cage season he has the task of picking an All-Area team.

This he has accomplished, with the help of the area cage coaches and fans.

And, in next week's edition, you'll be introduced to the 1968 Associated Newspapers' mythical team. Also, being honored is the "Coach of the Year".

"There are many average wrestlers," said Rafford, "but only a few good ones."

"Many boys reach a plateau after wrestling a couple of years and they stop there. The reason for this is that they never really learn the finer points of the sport."

"Our greatest problem as a coach," said Rafford, "is to teach these boys technique."

"And what makes wrestling so interesting is that there is so much to learn," he concluded.

Boone Heads Michigan Week Here

BELLEVILLE -- Michigan Week observance in the City of Belleville this year will be under the chairmanship of City Councilman Nelson J. Boone. The 15th Annual Michigan Week will be held May 1 through 25. Boone was selected by his council colleagues in February. Councilman Donald Walters was last year's Michigan Week chairman.

In recent drawings for "Our Government Day" pairings held in Lansing, Belleville is to exchange its chief executive Mayor Royce E. Smith with the mayor of Newberry, Michigan.

Acting Governor William Milliken drew names from a barrel that contained the names of some 400 cities and villages in selecting pairings for "Mayor Exchange Day" May 20, the highlight of Our Government Day.

Boone reported last Friday that he had received no confirmation from Newberry officials on the mayor exchange program.

Cities and villages are grouped in four categories by population when selections are made. New selections and pairings can be requested if satisfactory arrangements cannot Wayne coach, Jim Chronowski, who will talk on "Catching." All facets of the game will be covered at the three hour clinic.

Coach Green will also discuss pitching, batting techniques and answer questions. The clinic, organized by the baseball coaching staff at Wayne Memorial High in cooperation of the Wayne and Westland Parks and Recreation departments, is aimed at helping youngsters and coaches on both the Little League and Babe Ruth baseball level.

Those wishing to attend the clinic are urged to contact the Wayne or Westland Recreation Departments or coach Green at PA 1-2107.

off Holland Christian in the finals.

It appears that almost everyone in these parts thrashed the Flyers including Rouge, and Ecorse, and Romulus -- and even Monroe Catholic Central whose ONLY win of the league season was over the Flyers.

Just goes to prove what coaches and sportswriters have known all the while: ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN AT TOURNAMENT TIME.

Good - bye basketball, hello baseball!

AP Selects All-Tourney Cage Team

Eight players were named by the Associated Press to the 1968 Michigan High School Basketball "All - Tourney" team. They included:

Ernie Cryer, Grand Rapids
Ron Gutkowski, Detroit Catholic Central

All - Area Mat Selection

came when he moved up a weight class.

The 120-pounder finished the year second at the Regionals and at the East Christmas Tourney. He was wrestled for coach John Kulazanka for the past three years.

Whipple, also a senior with three years varsity experience, was forced to the sidelines in the first stages of the season when he transferred from West. But the 17-year-old grappler came back to claim the Regional title in the 165-pound class and became one of the 10 from the area to qualify for state competition.

Regional and Northwest Suburban champ in his junior year, the mat future of Franklin's Frank Rekieta also looks bright. Losing only one of his 11 dual matches this season, Rekieta is an all-round athlete who excels also on the gridiron and in track.

The 145 - pound grappler, coached by Pete Kokenakes, is a team leader and an excellent student.

Lane climaxed his prep wrestling career with the Northwest Suburban Conference, the Regional titles and an overall 40-2 record. The 18-year-old senior retained a berth in the All-Area team, taking up the 154-pound berth.

Arble, a 17-year-old senior with three years' of varsity experience, was selected for the 103-pound class and brings a 21-4 overall record plus the league title and a second place to the squad.

Woody is also a senior who placed second in the league as well as the regional. All three were coached by Bob Fusk.

J. L. Canfield Nominated for Board Post

Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield is in line to become chairman of the 130-member Wayne County Board of Supervisors at its April 9 meeting.

Mayor Canfield was nominated for the post by the Out-County Supervisors Association at a meeting in Inkster, March 21.

By a Supervisors' resolution, the Detroit Common Council nominates the chairman for two out of every three years and the Out-County Supervisors Association, made up of the 61 members from outside Detroit, nominates the chairman for the third year. Traditionally, the full board accepts the nominee.

The Board of Supervisors will elect a chairman April 9 to succeed Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz, who is completing his second consecutive one-year term.

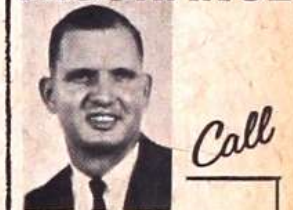

Mayor Canfield has been a member of the Board of Supervisors since 1959 and currently is chairman of its Ways and Means Committee.

Mt. Pleasant School Has Puppet Show

By Sheryl Kaiser
Fourth Grader

ROMULUS -- The Mt. Pleasant Elementary School presented a puppet show March 22. It was held from 10:30 a.m. until 11:45 a.m.

The first show was about "The Three Wishes." It was about a woodcutter and his wife. He found a fairy in a tree. The fairy gave him a ring that would bring him three wishes. Casper, the woodcutter's wife's friend, used up one wish and the woodcutter used up the rest. They did tricks and funny things.

There were the morning kindergartners and the fourth graders from Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, the fourth and fifth graders from the Junior High, and the sixth graders from Harrison in attendance.

After the show, Sheryl Kaiser and Julie Johnson interviewed Frieda Falter, the puppeteer. She said she liked being a puppeteer and that she has been one for ten years. She likes putting on puppet shows very much and puts on 75 to 100 shows in two months. She has over 100 puppets.

Everyone liked Frieda and her puppets and wants to thank the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School PTA for holding it.

Lakeland Park Here Would Be A Community Asset

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles observing the economic impact of apartment developments on communities. The series is particularly important to Van Buren residents who must vote May 7 on whether or not to allow the rezoning of the McMullan property north of Belleville Lake for a 2,000-unit Lakeland Park apartment group.)

Lakeland Park Apartments would be an economic asset to Van Buren Township. This conclusion must be drawn after studying factual surveys conducted by communities in the Detroit area and the nation. According to the surveys, the township and school district governments both would benefit financially from the construction of the proposed 2,000-unit development north of Belleville Lake.

The complex, as proposed, would have a nine-hole golf course, two community houses and two swimming pools along with the luxury units. It was approved by the Van Buren Planning Commission and the township board, and the 147-acre parcel known as McMullan property was rezoned for multi-family use at a meeting where only 27 persons attended. Petitions initiated by these objectors forced an election on the rezoning May 7.

THE LUXURY UNITS would be constructed by Frank Volk, well-known Detroit-area developer and builder. The units would rent for $190 to $300 with appointments including fireplaces, clothes washers and dryers, and staggered joists and staggered wall studs as part of the sound conditioning. When developed the group would add an estimated $800,000 in tax money to the township, school district and county. About 65 percent of this amount would go to the Van Buren Public Schools.

According to research reports made in Warren, Mich., and Nassau County, Long Island, New York, such an apartment complex as Lakeland Park would be a community asset.

urban Living Patterns prepared by the Nassau County, New York, Planning Commission. The report most pertinent to the Van Buren Township Lakeland complex, is the one prepared by the Warren Planning Commission. On Page 33 of the report it states: "The dynamic effect of education costs on the tax rate is most apparent in the suburban communities, especially those where substantial tracts have been developed into modestly-priced, one-family dwellings. These usually house between one and two school children each. With costs of schooling averaging about $450 per student, the new one-family house generates a charge of between $450 and $900 for education. A reasonable average of 1.5 public school pupils per new tract unit would cost the average municipality $675 for education. A typical new one-family unit will either pay nearly $1,000 a year in taxes for school and city services or will become a tax deficit element to be made up from other sources.

"One response to the problem has been to seek industry which will make up this deficit, in turn, having secondary damaging effects on the town. Unfortunately 'ideal' industrial tenants are few, and towns in need are many. In light of this problem, many municipalities are reviewing their attitudes toward multiple-family units.

"The prime question in this area is: How does tax revenue derived from a low-rise suburban apartment compare with the cost of educating the children of its tenants? It is the cost of education which, more than any other single factor, dominates the thinking of suburban planning groups and citizens when reviewing the implications of apartment developments.

"The number of school age children (6-18 years of age) per apartment unit in Warren averages out to .123 students per unit (12.3 children per hundred units), and 55 percent of these children live in the Lexington Town Houses (low-income, federally financed cooperative) which has an average of .363 students per unit.

"On the other hand, single-family housing in Warren has an average of 1,157 students per unit (115.7 students per 100 units) which is almost nine times the number per average apartment unit.

"In effect, the multiple housing in Warren at the present time is contributing to the support of school children from single-family dwellings through property taxes."

AS FOR city services, the report indicates that the city of Warren services garbage and rubbish pickup to about two-thirds of the apartments while lem has been to seek industry which will make up this deficit, in turn, having secondary damaging effects on the town. Unfortunately 'ideal' industrial tenants are few, and towns in need are many. In light of this problem, many municipalities are reviewing their attitudes toward multiple-family units.

Warren police records, according to the report, indicate that crime is not a major problem in apartment developments because there are always some tenants present at all times.

The Livonia Planning Commission's report shows there are nine apartment groups with a total of 574 units in the city. There are only 48 school-age children residing in the 574 units or about one child from every 12 units.

IN THE 152-PAGE report prepared by the planning commission in Nassau County, Long Island, New York, the number of public school children living in apartments average .19 per apartment unit (19 per 100 units).

The report states: "In terms of actual dollar amounts, the survey shows that apartments in Nassau paid in the aggregate more than $1.5 million in school district taxes in excess of the estimated cost of educating pupils living in apartments."

Developer Volk states that all tenants must sign will state that only children of high school age will be allowed to reside in Lakeland Park.

Such a lease ruling in other apartment groups in the Detroit area has forced an average of about one public school child per 50 units or about two students per 100 units.

GARY LOCKWOOD

Lockwood Has High Hopes for 'Space Odyssey'

By DAVID WILLET

GARY LOCKWOOD, a "down to earth" young actor was in Detroit this week to promote his latest movie, a space spectacular called "2001: A Space Odyssey."

I talked to Gary over lunch last week at the Pontchartrain, "2001: A Space Odyssey," co-starring Keir Dullea, opens April 10 at the Summit theater in Detroit.

Lockwood talked about his father, John Yurosek, who started as an onion farmer before becoming successful in the motel and restaurant business.

And he talked about his enthusiasm for karate, motorcycling, and boating, along with his serious interest in art. He spends much of his salary on paintings which hang in his rambling Malibu home overlooking the Pacific Ocean. It is here that he docks his 30-foot cabin cruiser. He has become an expert fisherman.

Gary is a native of California and played football for UCLA. "I remember playing against the University of Michigan, and how nice the weather was that day," he mused. "That's because I was carried off the field with a knee injury and I remember spending the last few minutes on the field looking up and thinking to myself 'what a pretty sky.'"

Lockwood explained what "2001: A Space Odyssey" is about, but declined to reveal the surprise ending.

"In the film we explore the moon and travel to another planet in our solar system. The movie deals with the question of life on other planets," Gary said. We talked about the production in general and about the director-producer Stanley Kubrick, famous for "Paths of Glory," "Spartacus," "Lolita," and "Dr. Strangelove."

"This film unites modern technology and our knowledge of the planets and stars with the story," Gary said.

Lockwood has appeared in five motion pictures, a Broadway play, and his own television series, "The Lieutenant," which has made his name and face familiar to millions of viewers.

He was in the movie "Tall Story" with Tony Perkins, "Splendor in the Grass," "Wild in the Country," and "It Happened at the World's Fair."

Distribution Of Telephone Book is Set

Distribution of the new 1968 telephone directories begins here Tuesday, April 2, Michigan Bell Telephone Company said today.
Included in the distribution are 325,000 West and Downriver directories which will go to subscribers in 42 local communities. It will take two weeks or more for the distribution to be completed.
The new format for emergency numbers on the inside front cover which features emblems associated with an emergency has proved a success, Edward H. McNamara, manager said.

PARENTS AGAIN are urged to fill in their respective telephone numbers opposite these emblems--such as a flame for the fire department, a shield for police, a star for sheriff and state police--and point out this page to their children to familiarize them with the symbolic emergency numbers.
The current distribution of the Detroit directory marks 90 years of its publication. The first printing, in 1878, listed 124 subscribers and their addresses, but not their phone numbers. Calls were placed by giving the operator the name of the person being called.
Telephone customers who need one or both of the other two area white pages directories--North and East--may obtain them by calling the local Michigan Bell business office.

Postmasters Attend 3-day Conference

BELLEVILLE -- Postmaster R. J. O'Neill of Belleville and George Austin of Romulus attended a three-day Postmasters' Training Conference in East Lansing, Michigan on March 16, 17 and 18. This was the Seventh Annual Conference to be held under the sponsorship of the Michigan Chapter of the National Association of Postmasters.
Sessions at the Conference were of a workshop type with staff and resource personnel being provided by the Chicago Regional Office of the Post Office Department.
A highlight of the three-day meeting was the banquet held Monday evening, March 18 in the Ballroom of the Union Building, East Lansing, Michigan. Donald L. Swanson, Chicago Region Postal Director gave the main address at the banquet. Swanson reviewed the progress made by the Post Office during the past year in its efforts to achieve President Johnson's goal of superlative postal service.
Swanson noted that the 1967 Christmas mail handling operation was the most successful and efficient in the Department's history despite an increase of over three per cent in mail volume over the previous year. More than 75 percent of all first class mail was airtlifted.
He predicted that Postmaster General O'Brien would go before Congress for the establishment of a priority mail category by the end of 1968, which would combine first class and airmail into a single category of mail.
Swanson commended the postmasters in attendance for taking time out, at their own expense, to increase their knowledge and to improve their abilities as postal managers.
More than 450 postmasters from throughout the state of Michigan attended the conference.

Huron Township Schedules Election on Sewer Program

NEW BOSTON -- A referendum vote on a proposed $4,400,000 sewer program in Huron Township will be held on Friday, April 5.

Petitions containing 370 signatures, more than enough to call the special election, were filed with township administrative officials March 14. Vote registrations in the township currently stand at 3,400.

George Angel, township supervisor, in commenting on the referendum vote, said:

"It is unfortunate that residents have called for a referendum on our much needed sewer construction program. It is their right to have one if they so desire but the delay that the election will bring in the program's timetable (construction was slated to begin June 1) will jeopardize our receiving an approved federal grant of $452,000 which is to be part of the sewer 'financing.'"

The supervisor, who has been conducting a series of public meetings, nine in all, during the past several weeks, reported that all phases of the program and questions presented were believed answered.

Some township residents have voiced objections to the additional tax burdens required to finance the sewer program holding that the new proposed taxes were excessive. Still others wanted residents to have a vote on the program.

The sewer contract with Wayne County Road Commission involves the construction of a sanitary sewer interceptor by Huron, Sumpter Townships and Flat Rock and for lateral sanitary sewers in Huron Township.

The township has been ordered by Michigan Resources Commission to install the sewer project in a commission directive calling for elimination of pollution of the Huron River.

Belleville Area Volunteers Honored by Red Cross

BELLEVILLE -- More than seven hundred Red Cross volunteers including six from Belleville area, were honored last Sunday (March 17) at the Second Annual Recognition Ceremony of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross, held at Cobo Hall, Detroit.

Volunteers were given pins for years of community service in increments of five years. Four were honored for 50 years of service.

A feature of the program was the talk by "Bud" Guest, a member of the chapter's Board of Directors and a WJR radio personality.

AN ADDED feature was the presentation of the Certificate of Merit to Lieutenant Arnold Vanzo, a Dearborn firefighter, whose quick action in giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Fire Captain George Schleif saved his life following a fall from a ladder while fighting a fire last August 2.

The Certificate of Merit is the highest citation for lifesaving given by the American National Red Cross.

Local residents awarded pins were:

Mrs. Louis Stein (Helen) of 4482 Sheldon, who received a 25-year pin.

Five Year pins were awarded Mrs. Mildred Bosteder, R.N., 485 High Street; William Brandell, 501 Columbia; Cheryl Burn, 44580 Harris Road; Warren E. Hatch, 305 Church Street; and Joyce Foll, 45830 Ecorse Road.

cial consultants. The total reported by the consultants included a six mill levy now assessed for payment of the Township's current water system since 1961, he stated.

Smith Proclaims Hospital Week

BELLEVILLE -- Mayor Royce E. Smith issued a proclamation Monday designating the week of April 21-27 as Hospital Week in the City of Belleville.

The proclamation urges all residents and community businesses to join in a program of community-wide cooperation in promoting the welfare and future growth of local hospital facilities.

Mayor Smith's action was taken upon the request of a group of prominent community women leaders who called upon the mayor Monday morning for his official blessings on their planned campaign for Hospital Week.

The group are known for their active interest in the continued improvement and progress of the Belleville area.

They are continuing their interests to one of the most important facilities of the community -- The Belvill Community Hospital. This hospital, through the guidance and careful planning of William Hinchey, hospital administrator, has had many changes and improvements developed during the last year. He has underway further plans for the renovation and modernization of the hospital.

Many activities are being planned in observance of the event which will acquaint residents of the improvements that have occurred in the last year, the group reported.

Mayor Smith stated that he would be most happy to concur with their request and program. He added that all efforts must
